Molecular and Cellular Biology (ISSN 0270-7306) is devoted to the advancement and dissemination of fundamental knowledge concerning the molecular biology of eucaryotic cells, of both microbial and higher organisms. Instructions to authors are published in the January issue each year; reprints are available from the editors and the Publications Office. The journal is published monthly, one volume per year. The nonmember subscription price is $70 per year; single copies are $7. The member subscription price is $18 (foreign, $20 [surface rate]) per year; single copies are $6. Correspondence relating to subscriptions, reprints, defective copies, availability of back issues, lost or late proofs, disposition of submitted manuscripts, and general editorial matters should be directed to the ASM Publications Office, 1913 I St., NW, Washington, DC 20006 (area 202 833-9680).

Second-class postage paid at Washington, DC 20006, and at additional mailing offices.

For the meeting of the world's best minds in microbiology, you need to attend the

XIII INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF MICROBIOLOGY

International Union of Microbiological Societies

8-13 AUGUST 1982 • BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, USA

Sponsored by the American Society for Microbiology

The International Union of Microbiological Societies, the American Society for Microbiology, and the Organizing Committee of the Congress extend to microbiologists and other interested scientists around the world a cordial invitation to attend and participate in the upcoming XIII International Congress of Microbiology, 8-13 August 1982. The center of Congress activities will be the John B. Hynes Veterans Auditorium in the Prudential Center, Boston. You are urged to act immediately to obtain further information. Either call the Secretary General of the Congress, at (202) 833-9680, to request additional information or write to the address below.

Plenary Lecture:

Tumor viruses as amalgams of viral and cellular information. David Baltimore

Scientific Programs:

Over 700 contributed papers, 98 formal symposia and round tables, among four distinct programs: Interdivisional, Bacteriology, Mycology, Virology

Selected symposia include:

- Expression of plasmid genes
- Membrane transport of bacterial toxins
- Mycological research as we approach the year 2000
- Genetic control of DNA replication of phage and their hosts
- The lysogenic decision
- Beta-lactamases and the development of beta-lactam antibiotics
- Membrane energetics and transport in eucaryotic microorganisms
- Molecular basis of dimorphism
- Envelope phages as membrane models
- Current status of studies on C₁ compound metabolism
- Opportunistic infections in the compromised host
- New strategies in the control of Neisseria infections
- Enzyme regulation in fungi
- DNA packaging in vitro and in vivo
- Changing patterns of nosocomial infections
- Microbial fossils and traces of evolutionary changes
- Computers and microcomputers in microbiology
- Fundamental and applied aspects of ethanol production by yeasts and other microorganisms
- Cell wall macromolecules and host responses
- Structure-bound enzymes
- Fungal viruses and plasmids
- Molecular evidence of phylogenetic relationships and procaryotic evolution
- Electroimmunochemical approaches to antigenic analyses of microorganisms

Social Program:

Enjoy events such as the opening reception, symphony concert, and ballet in one of America's most historic cities; meet old friends and make new ones at this most international of meetings.

American Society for Microbiology

1913 I Street, NW • Washington, DC 20006 • U.S.A.

1982 Full Membership — American Society for Microbiology

1913 I St., NW, Washington, DC 20006

The Society welcomes to full membership any person who is interested in its objects, and who holds a bachelor's degree in microbiology or a related field (or who has had training and experience equivalent to that represented by a bachelor's degree).

The minimum annual membership assessment is $45 which includes a general membership fee, ASM News, and $38 toward subscriptions to the Society's scientific journals. The Society publishes nine scientific journals (listed below). Members may subscribe to one or more of these journals at special member rates; $38 of the minimum dues payment of $45 may be credited towards journal subscriptions. In addition, the Society publishes the monthly ASM News, which is sent to all members and contains news and announcements of interest to all microbiologists.

Memberships are initiated and renewed as of January each year. Unless there are directions to the contrary, membership nominations received prior to November 1 will be credited to the current year, and back issues of the selected publications for the current year will be furnished. Nominations received after November 1 will become effective the following January.
